About the Quotes

We all experience life differently. Yet, we all must make the same decision at some point, which is how we want our lives to look like.

As African women, we have a shared responsibility to uplift one another throughout our difficulties and create a better world for ourselves, our loved ones, and our communities.

One word, one phrase, one sentence from other women like us can often change the trajectory of our lives – reconnecting us to our destinies if we've taken a wrong path or all seem stalled. Quotes are inspirational and motivational hints that give birth to sudden illuminations into our mind. They can provide breakthrough ideas to get us to the next stage of our journey.

Drawing from real-life breakthroughs and breakdowns, Live Your Life Regardless shares as-a-matter of fact, encouraging and comforting insights for daily challenges and inspiration to challenge your challenges, question your reality, live with uncertainty, take risks, and build a life so desired.

Although this book targets women of Africa, it will also, appeal to anyone searching for inspiration to stay calm in a mad world.

Be inspired. Make it happen..

Empowerment

“We have grown past the stage of fairy-tale. As women, we have one common front and that is to succeed. We have to take the bull by the horn and make the change happen by ourselves.”
